CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Triple Alliance Against Germany.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Great Britain has begun to vigorously press negotiations for an Anglo-Russian entente, with the purpose of completing the triple alliance of Great Britain, France and Russia against Germany, which has long been the aim of British policy. The developments at the Algeciras conference where Great Britain, France and Russia acted in unison, and the participation of English bankers in the big Russian loan furnishes a particularly favorable moment and Great Britain is striking while the iron is hot. Besides, the British government has recently given Russia proof of her desire to settle outstanding difficulties by inducing English bankers not to take the Persian loan on the ground that it might be regarded as prejudicial to Russian interests.

The sentiment in St. Petersburg in favor of the entente also has been aided by the declination of Germany to participate in the Russian loan and by publications from Russia hostile to Germany, which have been directly inspired from British sources. Count Lamsdorff, and, latterly, Premier Witte, have favored an Anglo-Russian entente, and the combination is regarded as practically certain.

The negotiations between the two governments thus far have only touched the questions relating to the delimitation of respective spheres of influence, including the apportioning of railroad and banking concessions in Persia. Generally speaking, Great Britain wants the southern and Russia the northern half of that country.

There is reason to believe that when the consent of Persia is secured the branch of the Trans-Caucasian Railway now authorized to the Persian frontier will be extended to Bagdad, which point, it is estimated, can be reached before the famous German Bagdad road is completed.

When the Persian question is settled all matters relating to the Indian frontier which constitute a source of possible misunderstanding—namely, the Afghan Pamiers and Tibet—will be resolved

Young Woman Drowned.

By the upsetting of a canoe in the Potomac river about two miles west of the Aqueduct bridge at Georgetown, Miss Elizabeth Wood, 25 years old, of Washington, was drowned about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. Her companion, G. Rex Frye, 18 years old, a student in the senior year at Georgetown College and a member of the boat crew, was rescued from the bottom of the canoe, which had "turned turtle," and to which he was cling-ing, barely in time to save his life.

The accident occurred just east side of Dixie's landing and was witnessed by about 50 quarrymen at work on the river's edge. According to the statement of young Frye, he and the girl clung to the bottom of the upturned canoe and cried for the men on shore to come to their aid, but the men watched as if stupefied and did nothing. Finally Miss Wood, becoming exhausted, could no longer retain her hold, and sank into the water. Frye, who says he is a poor swimmer, was compelled to cling to the canoe and watch the girl struggle in the water. She rose to the surface several times, each time making a desperate effort to again clutch the side of the canoe.

Soon after Miss Wood sank two men in boats from the quarry came out and took Frye to shore.

Miss Wood was paddling the canoe when the accident occurred. The passing of the tug boat J. F. Mead rocked the canoe. In the excitement Miss Wood dipped her paddle into the water, and in clutching the side of the canoe caused it to upset.

Frye is a son of W. W. Frye, of the government printing office. He said he had met Miss Wood for the first time at the Congressional Library last Sunday, and it was then that the engagement to go rowing yesterday was made. Miss Wood had prepared a luncheon and they left her home yesterday morning. They rowed until a short distance above Dixie's landing, where they went ashore and spent the day, starting home at 5 o'clock. The accident occurred when they were not more than 30 yards from the shore.

Miss Wood was an orphan and resided with her brother, Clagett W. Wood.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton and Company.

Strange Spectacle.

The spectacle of a nude man racing down Broad street, Richmond, was witnessed by late pedestrians yesterday morning. In hot pursuit was Policeman W. A. Taylor. The fugitive was captured in an alley between Broad and Marshall streets. At the police station the prisoner, who had forgotten his identity, said that he remembered nothing from the time he was seized with an uncontrollable desire to tear the clothing from his body, until he was on his way to the station in a patrol wagon. The man, who had been drinking, is subject to temporary fits of insanity. Upon giving satisfactory evidence that he was able to take care of himself he was allowed to go.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING. APRIL 14, 1906.

TOMORROW will be observed as the anniversary of the resurrection of the Founder of the Christian faith, an event which occurred nearly nineteen centuries ago. A corporal's guard of disciples who were His companions and witnesses of His works during a ministry of less than three years immediately began to promulgate the new faith, and in a few centuries it had pervaded the then habitable world. The banner of the cross followed in the wake of civilization until at the present time it can be said that the Gospel has been proclaimed to all nations, if not to each and every individual. The New Testament appeared soon after the scenes enacted in Judea, and the statements of the evangelists and the incontrovertible arguments of the great apostle to the gentiles soon undermined the myths and fables of classic days. Written in Greek, a language at that time used universally, its statements and reasoning appealed to thinking people of all classes. The number of deities at the time the Nazarene appeared was legion and they had myriads of worshippers. There is not one to do them reverence now. Millions have fallen asleep since the scenes on Mount Calvary with a full assurance of immortality, and as the years come and go the great army increases.

EXTENSIVE preparations are being made for sturgeon fishing on the Atlantic, and it is estimated that there are at least 40 nets along the Accomac and Northampton coast. This has recently become an important industry. Until recent years these fish were comparatively worthless; now one with a large roe is worth from $30 to $50. The sturgeon, like the shad fishery, is being ruined by the trap nets, which are set far out in the ocean and which prevent the fish from making their way into the inland waters These nets catch big and small fish alike but the latter in myriads are not used for food but die and are again thrown into the sea.

WHEN A merchant who once advertised that he was selling his goods much below cost and carriage was asked by a simple-minded customer how he could afford it, he said it was because of the large quantities which he handled. This, suggests the Philapelphia Record, is the only explanation of the watch trust and other tariff-fed manufacturing combinations concerning their ability to send abroad merchandise to the value of many millions of dollars and undersell foreign merchants in their own markets.

THE SHIP OWNERS are now besieging the House committee on merchant marine and fisheries urging that unless a ship subsidy bill is passed they will have to go out of business. But their talk is all gammon and all of the ship lines are now making money. But if they are not, is there any more reason why the government should pay them subsidies for doing business than it should pay others engaged in other kinds of trade?

MR. HAY, Congressman from the Seventh Virginia district, one of the most discerning members of the House says he believes the democrats have a good chance of carrying the next House, and that they should make the campaign one of the single issue of tariff reform. This is the only issue on which the democrats have won in forty years, and such reform is more important now than ever before.

MR. TOM TAGGART, chairman of the mocratic national committee, is urging e election of a democratic Congress as trump card to hold in the presidential ntest. With unity in the party and strong effort in that direction Mr. Taggart's plan can be accomplished.

IT IS stated that Senator Hale has no notion of voting for the Bailey amendment, notwithstanding his ebullition in its favor. He has evidently contracted the habit of his former colleague, the late Senator Hoar, who was given to speaking one way and voting the other.

THE CONSUMERS of coal—to wit, nine-tenths of the people of the United States—are not sympathizing these days either with the prosperous mine owners or the prosperous miners. They are kept busy sympathizing with themselves.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, April 14.

The cornerstone of the new three million dollar office building for the House of Representatives which will occupy an entire city square just southeast of the Capitol, was laid this afternoon in the presence of the President, the Cabinet, the Supreme Court, members of the House and Senate, representatives of the foreign governments, and a great concourse of residents of the District of Columbia. With the historic gavel used by George Washington in laying the cornerstone of the Capitol 113 years ago, Grand Master Walter A. Brown, of the District Grand Lodge of Masons, struck the marble block three times and pronounced it well and truly laid. The ceremonies followed almost identically those when the gavel was wielded by the first President of the United States. They were preceded by a formal parade of the Grand Lodge and other Masons of the District to the site. At 12:30 Grand Master Brown ascended the platform and announced the purpose for which the assemblage had gathered. Grand Chaplain, D. W. Skellanger, invoked the Divine blessing, and then Elliott Woods, superintendent of the capitol building and grounds, and under whose supervision the present structure is being erected, made a brief address. Following a selection by the Marine Band, which played at intervals throughout the ceremony, President Roosevelt stepped to the platform and delivered the address of the day.

Among other things the President said:

Over a century ago Washington laid the corner stone of the Capitol in what was then little more than a tract of wooded wilderness here beside the Potomac. We now find it necessary to build great additional buildings for the business of the government, which is but proof and example of the way in which the nation has grown."

Mr. Roosevelt excoriated the spirit of the age which causes many in their greed for gain to act the part of the man with the muckrate in Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress who refused to look at the angel who stood over him tendering a crown of life. He also portrayed a large class who are ever inveighing against this and that features of political economy without ever making a practical suggestion to bring about a better order of things.

"There is," the speaker said, "any amount of good in the world, and there never was a time when loftier and more disinterested work for the betterment of mankind was being done than now. The forces that tend to evil are great and terrible, but the forces of truth and love and courage and honesty and generosity and sympathy are also stronger than ever before." The President then referred to the efforts now being made by Congress to bring about more satisfactory commercial conditions in the country, in which he urged that corporations as well as individuals had rights which should be respected. In closing the speaker said: "Virtually and ethically we must strive to bring about clean living and right thinking. We appreciate that the things of the body are important; but we appreciate also that the things of the soul are immeasurably more important. The foundation stone of national life is, and ever must be, the high individual character of the average citizen."

Brief addresses by Speaker Cannon, Representative Hepburn, of Iowa, and Representative Richardson, of Tenn., the building commission of the House, completed the exercises of the day.

This is the last day of the Spring meeting of the Washington Jockey Club and may be the last day for evermore at Benning if the bill now before the Commissioners which is aimed to stop racing in the District, becomes a law. The card presented today is unusually attractive and a large crowd was present.

Officials at the Department of Commerce and Labor, including Commissioner-General Sargent of the bureau of immigration, are much interested in the announcement at Geneva that a Congress of anarchists will be held in America during June. The congregation of the anarchists in the vicinity of Baltimore has created much alarm, but so far as noticed those under suspicion have been, in the most part, Italians. No gathering of nationalities has come to the attention of the officials. "They have not invited me," said Commissioner-General Sargent, who has been quite active in attempting to locate the anarchists that have been reported in this country, when he first heard about the conference. The Department of Commerce and Labor will exercise every precaution to prevent the holding of a congress and should it be successful in finding such assembly the foreigners will be arrested and deported at once.

Monday will be suspension day under the rules of the House. The next appriation bill to be considered in the House will be the agriculture bill. The pure food bill, the free alcohol bill and the bill authorizing national banks to loan ten per cent. of their surplus as well as their capital stock are among the measures which may come up for consideration in the course of the week.

A dispatch from Texas stating that President Roosevelt had written Cecil Lyon, chairman of State republican committee, to the effect that he had decided to abandon hunting until the close of his term of office on account of the unpleasant criticism it has brought him, was the subject of considerable comment at the White House today, when the fact became known that the President had not made any such assertion as was contained in the story from Texas. If at any time in the future the President has an opportunity for some good hunting and can spare the time, he will undoubtedly take advantage of the occasion.

The cases of George A. Pettibone, Charles H. Mayer and William D. Haywood, of the western Federation of Miners charged with the murder of ex-Governor Frank Steunenburg, of Idaho, was docketed in the Suprrme Court of the United States, today. The men were arrested in Colorado and taken to Idaho. They say that this was the result of a conspiracy between the governors of the two States, and that they were kidnapped. The Circuit Court of the District of Idaho denied them a writ of habeas corpus. The case docketed in the Supreme Court of the United States today is an appeal from the order of denial. Edmund F. Richardson, their attorney, who is a law partner of Senator Patterson, of Colorado, will move on Monday that the case be advanced in the Supreme Court.

The congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution will open here next week. One thousand Daughters are expected to attend the congress and the crowded condition of the principal hotels this afternoon indicated that fully that many women will be present. Not only do the officers expect the largest attendance, but reports of the most successful year financially in the history of the society are anticipated. This will be distinctly an "old ladies" congress. A special meeting in honor of the 500 of the original 800 founders living will be a feature of the programme. While there is no president general to elect this year, Mrs. Donald McLean, of New York, who was elected last year, serving another year, there are two honorary vice president generals, and ten vice president generals to be chosen, and this is figured upon, considering the long list of candidates, to give those inclined to wire pulling a test of their ability.

Members of the House who opposed the Southern Railway subsidy in the postoffice bill, which was carried yesterday on a record vote of 99 to 96, have an investigation on foot to establish the correctness of the vote. Today it was shown that Messrs. Stevens, democrat, Texas, and Hedge, republican, Iowa, were recorded as voting for the subsidy, when in fact they were absent. The striking off of these two names from the record leaves the subsidy with but one majority. Those members behind the fight are inquiring into the votes of four or five other members who are recorded for the subsidy, and who are said to have been absent.

Statistics gathered by the Census Bureau and announced today show that there has been a substancial increase in the manufacture of silk and silk goods in this country during the last five years. The number of establishments has increase from 483 in 1900 to 624 in 1905. The increase in the manufacture of carpets and rugs has been steady.

President Roosevelt received a call this morning from Harvey D. Goulder, president of the American Merchant Marine Association, who is in Washington urging the passage of the ship subsidy bill. Mr. Goulder recited the fact that practically all the foreign governments grant subsidies to their ship owners and thereby render it impossible for American bottoms to complete.

Highly important changes among the ranking officers of the United States army will occur today. Lieutenant General John C. Bates, chief of staff of the army, will be placed on the retired list on his own application to make room for the promotion to the grade of lieutenant general of Major General Henry C. Corbin. Because of the short time General Corbin will have to serve before his statutory retirement, he will not become chief of staff, but that assignment will go to Brigadier General J. Franklin Bell, who will be the youngest officer ever assigned to this important position in the U. S. army. Major General Corbin will retire next September when he will be succeeded as lieutenant general by Major General Arthur MacArthur, commanding the Pacific division.

The House committee on the election of President, Vice President and Representatives in Congress today decided to consider in a detailed way all the pending measures bearing on the question of purity of elections and to hold executive sessions for that purpose every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. The measure under consideration today was the Bonynge giving to the United States courts jurisdiction in election frauds perpetrated in the election of Representatives and Delegates to Congress

News of the Day.

The season of the American baseball league opens today.

The House yesterday passed the post-office appropriation bill, including the southern fast mail subsidy.

It is stated that Senator T. C. Platt, of New York, will not be a candidate for re-election when his term expires in 1909.

Professor Mattucci, director of the observatory at Vesuvius, expresses the belief that the explosive period of the volcano is at an end.

New York financiers are discussing the formation of an institution similar to the Bank of England, with fifty millions capital, to control the money market.

Dowie's attorneys in Chicago today issued a formal statement denying a report that Dowie has surrendered to the Voliva forces and consented to return to Mexico without visiting Zion City.

Mrs. Elizabeth Caldwell Carey died in Memphis, Tenn., last Saturday. She was a grand-daughter of the late Col. Tyler, of Fairfax, and her remains were brought back there for interment.

It was testified during the legislative investigation of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company yesterday that Mrs. Henry L. Palmer, wife of the president of the company, got eight per cent. interest on loans from the company.

The first formal step by John Alexander Dowie to regain his power at Zion City was taken in Chicago yesterday afternoon when there was filed in the recorder's office in Waukegan, an instrument by which Dowie seeks to revoke formally the power of attorney which he gave to Voliva a few months ago. The differences between Dowie and Overseer Voliva are said to be in process of peaceable adjustment on the basis of the former being temporarily reinstated and getting $1,000,000, or about 5 per cent. of all the property.

The young woman who committed suicide in Philadelphia, Wednesday night, and whose body was found in an isolated place, was Mary Callaghan, of Monkton, Md. Her father, Charles W. Callaghan, identified the remains and made arrangements for their interment. Desire to shield her relatives from the disgrace of being connected with a suicide was the reason that prompted the young woman to endeavor to hide all trace of identity. Her story became known at the coroner's hearing yesterday.

The conviction of Greene and Gaynor has been one of the longest and most expensive criminal procedures ever undertaken by the United States government. The case has lasted over six and a half years, and is estimated to have cost the government between $150,000 and $200,000. Nor is the end yet at hand, because the defense has the right of appeal to the United States Supreme Court if any errors can be shown in the 13 weeks' trial. The defendants are said to have expended $350,000.

A dispatch from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., says: What was classed by Bishop Goodsell as one of the most remarkable events in the history of the Methodist Church occurred yesterday, when, before the Wyoming Conference, at Cooperstown, N. Y., Father Joseph Davidowski, of the Independent Polish Catholic Church of Plymouth, near Wilkes-Barre, appeared and requested that he and 40 families of his congregation be admitted to membership in the Methodist Church. Bishop Goodsell, during the course of his reply, said that whatever is done must be done in a lawful manner and that the conference will consider the matter.

Many Bills Passed.

Owing to the fact that none of its members was prepared to speak on the railroad rate bill, that measure was temporarily laid aside yesterday in the Senate, permitting the devotion of the entire time to the consideration of the other bills on the calendar. Of these more than 300 were passed, most of them being private pension bills.

Among the general bills passed was one increasing the pension of ex-soldiers who lost limbs in the service; another retiring and pensioning petty officers and men of the army, navy and marine corps after 30 years of service at three-fourths their regular pay, and a third bill increasing the pensions of ex-Mexican war soldiers to $20 a month and making the attainment of 75 years of age evidence of disability.

The conference report on the pension appropriation bill was presented and adopted.

Virginia News.

Capt. W. E. Gatrett, of the Leesburg bar, was yesterday appointed general receiver of the Circuit Court of Loudoun County by Judge C. E. Nicol.

Jackson Wise, election officer of the Third precinct, Monroe Ward, Richmond, who was convicted of irregularities in the primary last August and sentenced to three months in jail, must serve his term. He has been out on bail of $1,000 pending an appeal, and the Court of Appeals yesterday confirmed the decision of the Hustings Court.

Hugh F. Conrad, civil engineer, of Staunton, died at Roanoke Hospital yesterday from injuries received last Wednesday, when he was nearly buried under a mass of stone while operating a steam shovel in the local yard of the Norfolk and Western Railway. He was a son of Charles F. Conrad, of Staunton, and a nephew of Holmes Conrad, of Winchester, and was 26 years old.

Naples at Present.

A dispatch from Naples dated yesterday says:

A sorry sight, indeed, is Naples now. Dust, blinding dust on all sides, terrible clinging dust, which penetrates everywhere.

It is so fine as to be invisible as it falls, yet it hides everything from view. All the traditional beauties of nature for which Naples is world-famous are invisible. The lively bay might just as well not be there, for all that can be seen of it. Now and again as a phantom form one may descry a fisherman's boat with the occupants passing along, seen as through a thick gauze veil.

Vesuvius, the cause of all the trouble, is hidden by its emanations, its own smoke and dust.

Everybody who has an umbrella carries it open overhead, but this helps little as a screen against that blinding, penetrating dust. The only practicable walking attire is a full automobile rig-out.

One of the few amusements left Naples since the streets have become impassable is to watch guests arriving at the hotels from the trains.

Their appearance is truly grotesque; they look like millers who have been hard at work. They are irritated; they sneeze and choke. They look disreputable, and are doubly annoyed by feeling so.

It is warm, yet one dare not open the window of his bedroom. Were he to do so everything would be smothered.

The housemaids are in despair. Everybody wants a bath. You might take six baths a day and not keep clean, and the bathrooms are few.

The violence of the eruption continues to decrease. At present the only outward manifestations is the emission of sand and ashes. The inhabitants are returning to the villages at the base of the mountain. Not more than 20,000 persons fled. The report of a rain of boiling water is inexact, as is the statement that 19 inches of sand had fallen in Naples. Such a fall would have caused the whole town to collapse. The real depth of sand which fell was about three-quarters of an inch, making for the whole town about 130,000 cubic yards weighing about 300,000 tons.

For the first time in some days Vesuvius is visible. A cloud of black smoke rises perpendicularly from the volcano to about three times the height of the mountain. The height of the cone has greatly diminished and has become almost round.

The whole of Italy, in an out-burst of sympathy, is following the example of the King and Queen, sending subscriptions for the sufferers. The Duke and Duchess of Aosta have given a sum equal to $5,000 The Government has subscribed $100,000, the municipality and Bank of Naples each $20,000; the municipality of Milan, $10,000; the municipality of Rome, $4,000; the municipalities of Florence, Bologne, Genoa, Palmero and Turin, $2,000, and the Banco Commercials di Milano, $6,000.

Anxiety at G. P. O.

The report that the Columbia Typographical Union will appoint O. J. Ricketts to serve as legislative agent before Congress and government departments was received with alarm by many employes of the government printing office. From his long experience as foreman of printing in the government printing office, Mr. Ricketts is able to speak with knowledge of the relative cost of work done by the government printing office and private concerns

The action of Commissioner of Patents Allen in advertising for bids from outside firms for printing the Official Gazette and patent specifications has sounded the first note of what is feared will mean ultimately the disintegration of the government printing office. While only 300 or 400 employes will be affected by the clause in the appropriation bill abrogating the law requiring all such printing to be done in the government printing office, it is pointed out that heads of other departments may follow his lead, which would reduce the work of the government priuting office and result in laying off a large number of employes.

Mr. Ricketts says that he had received no official communication from the Columbia Typographical Union upon the subject of his appointment as the legislative repreesentative of that union. He admitted that he had been appried that such a movement was on foot and announced that he stood ready at all times to render the typographical union any assistance in his power.

After Oyster Pirates.

Vessels of the Virginia and Maryland oyster police are active in the Potomac river and Tangier sound. Since the dredging season closed in the Potomac river dredging boats have become buyers of seed oysters, and violations of the law regarding the size of oysters taken or bought are numerous.

The chairman and secretary of the Virginia Board of Fisheries are now daily cruising over the waters, hoping to cover all sections and gain a comprehensive view of the situation by the time the meeting is held next week in Norfolk. At this meeting 45 inspectors are to be elected, and the matter of purchasing a new flagship will also be considered. A number of contests from the old board will also come up.

Today's Telegraphic News

Conditions in Vesuvius.

Naples, April 14.—Vesuvius continues to grow quieter and the activity of the volcano is greatly reduced. The discharge from the crater is slight.

The rescuers are pushing their work with renewed vigor in view of the prevailing improved conditions and excavations are being made in the villages which were buried under the showers of ashes and cinders as rapidly as possible.

Many arrests have been made and an effort is being made to capture the ghouls. Officials and soldiers throughout the district are keeping a close watch for these robbers.

Professor Giana of the Naples University makes the statement that the volcanic dust which has covered the entire country in the vicinity of the volcano is not dangerous to health. The dust, he says, contains elements of iron and sand and will really have a beneficial effect upon the people.

The search of the devasted regions is now general. The reappearance of the sun has filled the people with a new hope.

While the sunlight has proved a great blessing it has had one bad effect, it has quickened the decomposition of the bodies of the victims of the eruption which have laid unburied for days.

Mysterious Death.

New Brunswick, N. J. April 14.—The body of Mrs. Margaret Wright, 80 years old, who lived by herself in a little house on the outskirts about ten miles from here, was found this morning on the floor of her sitting room, her throat cut from ear to ear. In her hand was a large bread knife, and the first theory was she had committed suicide, but blood marks on the rear door and the condition of the house supported the theory that she was murdered and after her death the knife placed in her hands. Mrs. Wright was a widow. Her husband was a soldier and she received a small pension. She had been saving the pension vouchers to get a monument for her husband, and it is supposed that burglars entered the house thinking she had the checks cashed. Blood was found tracked about the floors. The coroner discovered Mrs. Wright's pocketbook containing $561. The knife was hold with such a clutch that Dr. Crandall inclines to the suicide theory. He thinks the blood was tracked about by neighbors who filled the house after the discovery of the tragedy.

Destruction of Livery Stable.

Baltimore, April 14.—Fire this morning completely destroyed the livery and auction stables of Moses Fox and Son, 318-322 North street. There were over three hundred horses in the stables at the time, and it is estimated that between 200 and 300 of them were lost. Twenty-one mail cart horses, together with the mail carts, were among the beasts whose lives were snuffed out by the flames. The firemen and police had several narrow escapes in their work of rescue, the frenzied animals scurrying about bewildered by the rush of fire, and trampling to death their fallen mates. Their cries wers pitiable, but the flames were so rapid that they mercifully put an end to their agonies in short order. No accurate estimate of the loss can be given, but is is known to be large.

More Indictments.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 14.—Just before adjournment last evening the grand jury voted to indict Fred Greiner, postmaster of this city, Fred O. Murray, recently appointed collector of the port; Bernard J. Hiess, former supervisor; Robert S. Woodburn, former Clerk to the Board of Supervisors and present secretary to William H. Ryan, Representative in Congress, and John H. Stock, former Supervisor of Cheektowaga, in connection with the North Street Cemetery scandal in which Rowland J. Conover has been convicted for stealing the county's funds.

Continuing Investigation.

Baltimore, April 14.—The Interstate Commerce Commission this morning continued its investigation into the supposed discriminations which are made by railroads in favor of the coal companies able to have their own private cars. The testimony to be taken today will be chiefly from officials of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and is expected to disclose that the road has intimate connection with several of the big mining operations which use its lines as a means of transporting their output.

Narrowly Escaped Lynching.

Seville, Spain, April 14.—While King Alfonso was watching a procession yesterday a man, who was apparently intoxicated, approached the young monarch and made threatening gestures toward him. The crowd at once seized the inebriate and an attempt was made to lynch him before the authorities could make the man their prisoner.

Prisoners Released.

St. Petersburg, April 14.—The government has ordered the release of a large number of political prisoners now under arrest in the several provinces. In some quarters this is regarded as a hopeful sign that the government in the future will follow a more liberal policy toward the various parties that are trying to bring about reforms in the empire.

Placed in an Asylum.

Zurich, Switzerland, April 14.—The police have arrested an Italian anarchist named Guettra who boasted in a drinking bout that he was en route to America to kill President Roosevelt. Physicians who examined the man pronounced him insane and he is now incarcerated in an asylum.

International Anarchist Congress.

Geneva, Switzerland, April 14.—There is good authority for the statement that a secret international anarchist congress will be held in the early part of June in America. Seven well-known anarchists have left Switzerland, separately and by different routes for America.

Balfour Released.

London, April 14.—The correspondence of the Evening Standard, at Newport, Isle of Wight, wires that Jabez Balfour, the promoter of the notorious Liberator Building Society swindle, was released from prison this morning. Balfour was met by relatives with whom he drove to Yarmouth, whence they crossed to the main land. It is reported that Balfour will probably go to the United States. Jabez Balfour was the first of a notorious group of "frenzied" financiers who found many victims in England and he has been regarded as the originator of the Whittaker Wright clique. He was at one time a member of parliament and for a while posed as a wonderful financier. He organized the Liberator Building Society which found thousands of victims and when the smash came he was held responsible. He was sentenced on November 17, 1895, to serve fourteen years. He was sent to the great penal settlement on the Isle of Wight. He has been a model prisoner and earned all the time allowed to reduce the term of sentence.

Situation Unchanged.

New York, April 14.—The frank expression of John Mitchell that he has hopes that the formal reply of the operators to the miners' latest proposals for arbitration is taken generally to mean that the miners' scale committee would gladly accept even the slightest concession in order to avoid a strike. It was said today that Mr. Mitchell's cheerful utterances could only be construed as a delicate suggestion that if the operators would concede something the miners' would accept. Information obtained from several sources today indicates that the operators will absolutely decline to make a further concession.

John Mitchell received an invitation this morning from Maxim Gorky asking the labor leader to call this afternoon. Mitchell, however, had so many pressing engagements, previous to his departure for Indianapolis, at 7:30 tonight, that he regretfully was forced to decline the invitation.

Suicide of an Embezzler.

Mount Holly, N. J., April 14.—George R. Young committed suicide at the Washington House at 10 o'clock this morning by taking cyanide of potassium. At the time of the tragedy he was in charge of Constable Tomos and Justice of the Peace Hires who had him under arrest for embezzlement, while cashier and chief clerk of the Postal Telegraph Company, at St. Louis. H. was formerly a haberdasher with Wanamaker & Brown, of Philadelphia. Young left St. Louis on January, 1906, and from there until last night he was a fugitive from justice. He returned to Palmyra, his home, last evening. He was placed under arrest this morning. The prisoner was en route to the county jail, when he requested that he be left alone in a room at the Washington House for a few moments. When he came out he took about four breaths and fell over dead. Coroner Deworth has been summoned.

Wagon Struck by Train.

Greenville, Pa., April 14.—The entire family of Claude Calvin, of Atlantic, excepting Calvin himself, figured in a grade crossing accident near Atlantic, this morning. A wagon in which they were driving was struck by Erie train No. 5, the Cleveland and New York Limited. The dead are:

Mrs. Claude Calvin, 40 years old, and Jeannette Calvin, 9 years old, and Samuel Calvin, 8 months old. The fatally injured are: Thomas Calvin, 3 years old and Sarah Calvin, 7 years old. Train No. 5 was running about 50 miles an hour down a long grade.

The engineer saw the wagon approaching the crossing far ahead, but did not suspect that Calvin was attempting to cross ahead of the train. The engineer struck the rig just as it was crossing the tracks, tossing it away and throwing the bodies aside. Mrs. Calvin and two of the children were dead when picked up. Little hopes are entertained for the injured.

Funeral of Veteran Showman.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., April 14.—Funeral services over the remains of the late James A. Bailey, the veteran showman who died on Thursday were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, at the Bailey mansion, Corcoran Manor. The services were private, and were attended only by members of the family, and Mr. Bailey's personal staff. The Rev. H. H. Beatty, pastor of the Chestnut Methodist Episcopal Church, of Mount Vernon, officiated. The interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery. This morning almost every performer and worker of the Barnum and Bailey circus arrived at Corcoran Manor to pay their last tribute to Mr. Bailey. All went to the house together and after viewing the body returned to New York.

Another Mutiny.

Lisbon, April 14.—Another mutiny is reported to have broken out on the Portuguese warship Vasco Da Gama, following the trouble yesterday and last night on board the flagship Don Carlos, and stringent measures are being resorted to by the authorities to restore discipline. The examination of the sailors on board the Don Carlos to determine who was responsible for the outbreak on that vessel has about been completed. Seven of the ringleaders in the mutiny have been arrested and placed under close watch.

The Strike in Paris.

Paris, April 14.—The letter delivery service continues in fairly good shape. The soldiers remain on guard at all post-offices and soldiers are also engaged in delivering printed matter. The authorities are still hopeful that the strike will not last long.

Will Advance Gold to Banks.

New York, April 14.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw is in the city and announces that the sub-treasury, on the receips of collateral security acceptable to savings banks, will immediately advance gold to any bank up to the sum of $5,000,000 for each bank to be immediately available in the banks reserves, the amount to be returned at once upon the receipts of imported gold. Under this ruling $12,000,000 in gold has already been distributed by the sub-treasury among gold importing city financial institutions. It was recalled that on Wednesday when call money was at 30 per cent. and the public had been squeezed out of their stocks, the Rockefeller banks announced an importation of $6,000,000 in gold. Call money dropped from 20 to 2 per cent. There was a bull in the market and the public did not have the stocks.

Scene in the House.

A bitter controversy took place in the House yesterday between Messrs. Williams, Dalzell, Bennet, Goldfogle and Hopkins, of Kentucky, over Mr. Bennet's bill to admit an idiot who had been excluded by immigration officers.

Speaker Cannon was in his element when every indication pointed to a clash between Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, over the use of certain sentences in a speech made by Mr. Hopkins, of Kentucky.

Immediately after the journal had been read the House plunged into the consideration of a resolution offered by Mr. Gardner, of Massachusetts, to have expunged from the Record certain remarks reflecting upon the integrity of Mr. Bennet, of New York.

Acrimonious words were general. The debate grew in intensity of expression, and the minority leader, Mr. Williams, had severely impugned the motives of Mr. Bennet, who had secured the passage of a joint resolution some days ago waiving the immigration laws in the case of an idiot.

Finally, Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, was drawn into the discussion, and there seemed to be an imminent clash between the Pennsylvanian and the Mississippian, when Speaker Cannon ordered both gentlemen to their seats and directed that the unparliamentary language used by Mr. Dalzell and Mr. Williams be stricken from the Record, as both gentlemen were speaking out of order. The resolution was finally passed.

Mad Dog Panic.

Hundreds of women in the heart of the Broadway, New York, shopping district were thrown into a panic yesterday afternoon by a mad dog that ran snapping, yelping and frothing at the mouth through one of the big Broadway department stores.

The screams of women heralded the approach of the dog, a mongrel fox terrier, as it dashed into Broadway from Tenth street. There was a scattering of pedestrians, and the dog ran into the vestibule of the store. A woman was just coming out, and as the inner door was opened the dog dashed, yelping, into the store.

There were screams from scores of women, who thronged the aisles, and a wild rush for the stairs. The dog ran about wildly for a few minutes, snapping at women in the store. Employes of the store tried to capture it, but it turned from one to the other, snapping and yelping, scattering froth from its dripping jaws, and they were afraid to touch it.

A messenger was sent for a policeman. Policeman Leggett hurried into the store and chased the animal out into the vestibule. A great throng had gathered in Broadway, blocking traffic, and the fight between the policeman and the dog was watched within tense interest.

Leggett had to fight warily to keep the leaping, snarling beast from biting him. He was unable to use his revolver because of the throng of women that surrounded the store. Finally he got in a blow of the club that stunned the terrier, and it lay senseless.

President Roosevelt Criticized.

Vienna, April 14.—The severe criticism of President Roosevelt in connection with the recall of Bellamy Storer as United States Ambassador continues here. The critics of the American President have taken the stand that it was unfair to recall Mr. Storer at the bidding of the opponents of Archbishop Ireland. The Storers have left Vienna.

New York Stock Market.

New York, April 14.—There was an unexpectedly strong tone to the stock market all through the first hour, and prices of many stocks made sharp and material gains. It was thought on the floor that with the relaxation of the money rate on Wednesday the situation has completely turned and more confidence was shown in making commitments on the bull side than at any time in the last few weeks. There was a better commission business than had been hoped for. Distilling rose from 59½ to 60¼ on buying back on a belief that the industrial alcohol bill will pass the House on Monday.

Charges Against a Supervisor.

Sheriff Palmer, of Alexandria county, yesterday served notice upon Will W. Douglass, the member of the board of supervisors of that county for Arlington district, that Augustus Davis, jr., and other citizens of that district will move the Circuit Court on April 23 to remove him from office "for malfeasance, misfeasance, incompetency, and gross neglect of official duty." The notice served upon Mr. Douglass bears thirty signatures, and contains ten alleged reasons why the court should remove him from office.

It sets forth that Dr. D. N. Rust, of Jefferson district; Will W. Douglass, of Arlington district, and William N. Febrey, of Washington district, composing the board of supervisors of Alexandria county, agreed among themselves that each should have control of the road and bridges in his particular district, and the expenditure of the moneys appropriated for building and repairing such roads and bridges.

The various charges against Mr. Douglass then follow. It is alleged that he has purchased from his father, Albert P. Douglas, large quantities of dirt, sand, and gravel, to be used on the roads of Arlington district, when he knew that the material mentioned was unfit for the purpose for which it was purchased, and that he has continued to use this material "against the remonstrances and requests of the tax-payers."

It is further alleged that Mr. Douglass has been unfair in the distribution of the funds committed to his care, in that he has caused the road adjacent to property owned by him to be kept in repair and has enhanced and improved the value of his own property and depreciated the value and convenience of the property of other taxpayers by failing and refusing to make urgent repairs upon roads and bridges that were immediately required for public safety.

Among the specific instances named in the bill is one charging Mr. Douglass with unlawfully expending from the county funds the sum of $7.80 for a trip to Richmond to urge the legislature to authorize Arlington district to issue bonds in the sum of $20,000 for the construction of a new school building, and another claiming that he had allowed the iron for a new bridge at Four-mile Run, near Naucks station, to lie on the ground and "rust and deteriorate and remain useless," and refuses to have the bridge structure put in position.

Mr. Douglass is charged also with being "excitable, irascible, violent, and unfair" to such an extent that he is "incapable of properly, equitably, justly, or lawfully" deciding matters that are before the board for its determination.

Mr. Douglass was asked last night what reply he would make to the charges preferred against him. He stated that he did not wish to dignify them by a reply. He further stated that he did not think that he would be represented by counsel when the matter is called in the Circuit Court.

Del Ray Baseball Club.

The Del Ray Baseball Club has organized for the season of 1906 and would like to arrange games with uniformed teams in Alexandria, Fairfax and Loudoun counties and Alexandria city. The present membership consists of the following: N. H. Peake, president; H. R. Gary, secretary treasurer; G. W Zachary, manager; I. W. Burrell, captain; E. Bruffy, F. Burrell, W. Burrell, F. Lucas, F. Smith, T. Taylor, E. Thompson, R. Wright, G. Zachary, jr., and I. Cumberland, mascot. Address H. R. Gary, secretary-treasurer, R. F. D., No. 2, Alexandria, Va. Only uniformed teams need apply.

Police Commissioners.

The Board of Police Commissioners last night continued their investigation of the members of the police force. Several witnesses who had been summoned testified in connection with charges that certain officers did not faithfully patrol their beats, especially at night The board adjourned to meet again next Tuesday night.

St. Paul's Church.

Services will be held in St. Paul's Church on Easter Sunday for the first time in several months. During the interim extensive repairs and additions were being made which are now practically completed. The church has been thoroughly renovated and painted, and a large choir and chancel, with robing rooms, vestry room and organ room added, the general dimensions of the addition being thirty feet by sixty feet, and the choir and chancel proper occupying thirty by thirty-six feet of this. The general design of the choir is a series of three triple gothic arches; the first set being cut in and supporting the eastern wall of the older building and the others supporting the roof of the new choir and chancel. The design of the pillars, arches, moldings, &c, are made to conform as far as possible to the design of similar work in the old church, and the tints of the old church have been retained in painting. A handsome thirty-five hundred dollar Austin organ, made at Hartford, Conn., has been placed in the choir and will be used the first time Easter Sunday when the surpliced choir of forty voices under the direction of Mr. Sherman B. Fowler, the organist, will render the Easter music. The entire cost of the improvements was $10,000.

The architect of the improvements is Mr. E. C. Dunn, who kindly made his work a donation to the church. His drawings and plans have been much admired and all have been made to conform as near as possible with the architecture of the church. The construction was well done by Mr. J. T. Harrison, contractor, under the supervision of Mr. Dunn, Mr. E. L Daingerfield, Judge J. K. M. Norton, Dr. G. T. Klipstein and Mr. J. R. Zimmerman, the construction committee of the church. The building is now one of the handsomest church edifices in the State.

The new organ, as above stated, will be used for the first time tomorrow. The choir, composed of forty-one members, which will render an excellent programme of music, will be vested. The organ is of two manuals and the casing is finished in polished quartered oak, while the displayed pipes are done in French leaf gold bronze. There are 850 speaking pipes and 14 stops. The couplers and speaking stops are operated by stops over the upper manual. The power is by motor. The instrument will represent the highest development in organ construction.

Opera House.

Manager Harper announces as the attraction at the Opera House for one week, commencing next Monday, Jolly Bonnie Vance and her company of comedians in a repertoire of farce comedies. Mr. Harper has exercised great care this season in selecting plays, and, as a consequence, the shows have all been excellent. At the start of the season a large number of plays had been booked at the Opera House, but by careful study none but the best were allowed to come here. The Jolly Bonnie Vance Company is highly recommended in every way, and a week of good plays may be expected. Nothing but comedies will be given, as the company does not produce any of the blood and thunder dramas. The attraction Monday night will be "Our Flats." Good specialties will be introduced between the acts by the famous Creighton Sisters, Cook and Beall, Stone and Sheldon, and the winsome little soubrette, Miss Downie. Ladies' bargain tickets will be good for Monday night and must be reserved by 7 p. m., on that day.

Anniversary of Assassination.

President Lincoln was shot and killed by John Wilkes Booth in Ford's Theatre, Washington, forty-one years ago tonight. The Army of Northern Virginia had surrendered five days previously, and one of the largest military and civic parades ever seen in Alexandria had taken place on the afternoon of April 14 (Good Friday). But few Alexandrians participated or aided in any way to swell the pageant. It was composed in the main of federal soldiers, government employees and representatives of those who conducted business here during the war. At night many stores and residences were illuminated. The news of the assassination of the President reached the city early next morning, and the hilarity of the previous day was followed by a period of depression, during which the military caused crape to be placed on the home or place of business of every resident.

An Easter Market.

There was more bustle and animation in market this morning than on any Saturday this year. There was an increased attendance upon the part or country people and buyers. Prices had undergone no special change. There was an abundant of green stuff and a fine display of flowers. The butchers had attractive offerings of spring lamb, as well as other fresh meats, and the benches of the hucksters contained fruits and vegetables, most of which had come from the sunny south. Some of the stalls had been tastefully decorated. There was an abundance of fresh fish of several varieties on the benches. Fine shad were plentiful, but the best were selling as high as 60 cents a piece.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Daniel Jones, colored, arrested by Officer Bell charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was fined $5.

Frederick Everhart, arrested by Officer Arrington, charged with careless driving, was dismissed.

A white man arrested by Officers Bettis and Ferguson charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

William Posey and Edward Howard, arrested by Officer Gill charged with disorderly conduct, were dismissed.

Holy Saturday.

Today, Holy Saturday, has been observed in the Catholic and Episcopal churches. In the former the holy water was blessed and those things of mourning which have marked the church during Lent were removed in anticipation of tomorrow, Easter Sunday.

Presbyterian Church.

The repairs to the Second Presbyterian Church have been completed, and the Sunday school and church services will be held there tomorrow During the past two weeks the services have been held in the First Presbyterian Church on south Fairfax street.

Property Sales.

Capt. R. F. Knox sold at auction today for Jas. R. Caton, trustee, a parcel of land in Fairfax county containing about 56 acres situated on the Accotink road and abutting on the Mason and Hammersley lands and ordinarily known as Vinegar Hill, to Mrs. Annie M. Pelton for $1,300 cash.

Mr. G. B. Kennedy, receiver, has sold to Mr. H. E Pass all the property and assets of the Alexandria Shoe Manufacturing Company.

Luther Carter, real estate agent, has sold the house and lot of Mr. McDonald, near the Theological Seminary, to James Kely. The ground embraces 3½ acres. Mr. Carter has also sold to Mr. Michael Lynch the house and lot of Mrs. Rector at Manassas.

Fishtown.

There was a decided depression at Fishtown this morning, as but few fish had been received from the lower river, not enough to meet the demand. There was also a dearth in Washington. Prices, in consequence, were still firm, with no indications of an early decline. Many fish, as has been the case during the past few years, are being cut and packed on the shores where caught and are sent here on steamboats ready for shipment to purchasers. This explains the fact that but few fish have as yet reached Alexandria. Herring are by no means plentiful, but shad seem to be coming in freely, although prices remain higher.

Children's Visit.

The programme arranged for the entertainment of children of the Masonic Home in Richmond was carried out today, and they experienced a day of genuine enjoyment. They passed through this city on a special train of the electric railway between 10 and 11 o'clock, accompanied by committees of Alexandria-Washington and Andrew Jackson Lodges of Masons. Upon their return they were entertained at dinner at Confederate Veterans' Hall, after which a reception was held at the Masonic Temple, where a large number of persons greeted the children Later the children visited certain points of interest in the city.

Dredging Company Enjoined.

The Columbia National Sand Dredging Company must not take sand out of the Piscataway river, in Maryland, according to the decision of Justice Stafford, in Equity Court No. 2 of the District of Columbia yesterday. George B. Morton and others asked for an injunction. The court will sign an order making perpetual the temporary injunction granted against the defendants at the time the suit was filed.

Large Orders.

The Emerson Pump Company yesterday received orders for eleven thousand dollars' worth of steam pumps. They came from Louisiana and Texas. A large number of orders had previously been received, and should the works be operated night and day from now until June 1st the demands would barely be met. The company is formulating plans for expanding the plant, and efforts are being made to select a suitable locality in Alexandria.

Easter.

Tomorrow will be Easter Sunday, and the day will be celebrated in the different evangelical churches of this city in an appropriate manner. Special music has been provided for the occasion, and in some of the churches flowers will adorn the chancels and pulpits and other seasonable decorations will be in evidence. The musical features of tomorrow have been published in the Gazette.

The Steamer St. Johns.

The St. Johns, which is to run on the Potomac this season as an excursion steamer, left New York Thursday for Washington and passed this city shortly before noon today. The steamer St. Johns is a large and commodious boat. She was built in Wilmington, Del., in 1878. Her gross tonnage is 1,098 84; net tonnage 667.03; length 250 feet; beam 38; depth 12.05.

Personal.

Rev. C. D. Bulla, the recently appointed pastor of the M. E. Church South, of this city, will occupy the pulpit of the church tomorrow morning and night for the first time as pastor.

Miss Glenn Austin, of Leesburg, is visiting Mrs. Dr. Fisher at 110 south Columbus street.

Luna Park.

George E. Gill has been installed as resident manager of Luna Park, the amusement resort which is rapidly approaching completion at Four Mile Run on the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway. For a number of years Mr. Gill was the executive director of the great Schutes Park at San Francisco

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, April 14.

SENATE

The Senate met at 2 o'clock in accordance with agreement. After prayer by Chaplain Hale, in which he asked for the blessing of God upon the new building being constructed for the House of Representatives, the Senate adjourned on motion of Senator Allison at 2:06. A number of the Senators then proceeded to the House of Representatives where they joined their colleagues in that body to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the new office building.

HOUSE.

The session of the House, after twelve forty-five p. m. today, was devoted to eulogies of the late Senator Orville Hitchcock Platt, of Connecticut. The speakers were Messrs. Sperry, Lilley, Henry, Higgins, and Hill, of Connecticut; Payne, Sherman and Bradley, of New York; Livingston, of Georgia; Dearmond, and Clark, of Missouri; McCall, of Massachusetts, and Capron, of Rhode Island.

In his opening prayer, Chaplain Couden paid a tribute to the useful life of the late Senator.

There was an echo of yesterday's fight against the Southern Railway mail subsidy, in the postoffice appropriation bill, through an attempt to prevent approval of the journal and force recapitulation of the vote. It failed, however, and the journal was approved.

Mutiny on a Steamer.

A mutiny lasting three days and nights occurred aboard the British steamer Hilarius, which arrived at New York yesterday from South America. The story of this insurrection, including the barricading of the forward part of the ship by seventeen cattlemen and their final escape by jumping overboard into the shark-infested Bay of Bahia was related by the steamer's officers.

The Hilarius shipped the mutineers, six Spaniards, and nine Italians, at Montevideo on March 6, to care for a consignment of cattle bound for Para. They revealed their plan to loot the ship to John Nerses, fourth engineer, who informed Capt. Marshall.

The captain chose a time when the mutineers were gathered forward, and then drew a dead-line across the deck, telling the bandits he would shoot the first one who crossed it, and at the same time marshaling his crew with drawn revolvers and loaded rifles.

The mutineers submitted until nightfall, when they barricaded themselves and opened fire, but injured no one. The crew of the Hilarius likewise placed barricades, and for three days relieved each other in standing guard.

Meanwhile, the Hilarius was headed for the nearest port, Bahia. Here, rather than face arrest, the mutineers dropped over the side of the steamer and swam away in the darkness. The crew of the Hilarius made no attempt to hinder their departure. According to the steamer's officers, the bay is known to be filled with man-eating sharks.

LAW IMPOSING TAXES ON PERSONS, &

An Ordinance for Imposing and Collecting Taxes on Persons, Property Incomes, &c., within the City of Alexandria, Va. for the Year Commencing on the 1st of June, 1906, and Ending on the 31st of May, 1907.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Alexandria, In the manner following that is to say: The annual taxes on persons, property, incomes, &c., for the fiscal year commencing on the 1st of June, 1906 and ending on the 31st of May, 1907, shall be levied and collected at the following rates:

Upon all property, both real and personal, of every kind and description owned or held by citizens of Alexandria, or located within the city of Alexandria, or subject to taxation under the constitution and laws of this State, there shall be levied a tax of ninety-five cents on every hundred dollars of the assessed value thereof.

Provided, That the machinery and capital employed by manufactories in said city shall be exempt from taxation.

On all annuities or rent charges in fee simple charged upon or issuing out of any tenement or lot of ground, one dollar and ninety cents up on every one hundred dollars of their assessed value; and in making the assessment of such lands they shall be valued at twenty (18) times their annual amount.

On every male inhabitant of this city over the age of twenty-one years, and under the age of seventy years, there shall be levied a capitation tax of fifty cents.

The assessed value of shares of bank stock for city taxes shall be the market value thereof, as they are or shall be assessed for State taxation, and shall be so returned by the Commissioner of Revenue on the assessment books of the city.

The stockholders in any bank banking association or banking company doing business in this city, whether resident or non-resident thereof, shall be assessed and taxed on the market value of their shares of stock therein at the rate of one dollar and ninety cents per hundred dollars upon the market value of each share of stock. The said commissioner shall notify each bank banking association or water company of the assessment of the shares thereof, to every holder thereof, resident or non-resident, with the amount of tax thereon, to be paid by such holder, and it shall be the duty of said bank, banking association, or water company, or the cashier or treasurer thereof, to pay the full amount of such taxes to the collector of the district in which such bank, banking association, or water company may be located, which taxes so paid may be deducted from the next succeeding dividend, payable by the said bank banking association or water company to the owners of the said shares of stock, and no dividend shall be levied upon said stock or company unless such taxes shall have been first paid.

Upon all bills paid to city by the 1st day of July, 1906, the collector of Taxes shall allow a discount of ten per cent., and on all bills paid by the 1st day of September, 1906, he shall allow a discount of five per cent., and on all bills not paid on the 1st day of December, 1906 the collector shall be required to collect a penalty of five per centum on the amount of said bills, and on all bills remaining unpaid on the 1st day of June, 1907, damages at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be paid.

This act shall be in force from its passage.

Passed the Common Council March 27, 1906.

AN ORDINANCE granting to the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company the privilege of constructing a bridge over Princess street, between Lee and Union streets.

Section 1 Be it ordained by the City Council of Alexandria that the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, a corporation incorporated and doing business under the laws of the State of Virginia, be and it is hereby authorized and empowered to construct a bridge not wider than ten (10) feet and at least seventeen (17) feet above the grade of Princess street, from the property owned by said company on the south side of Princess street, between Lee and Union streets, in this city, to the property owned by said company on the north side of Princess street, between Lee and Union streets.

Section 2. Be it further ordained that said bridge shall have a clear span for the entire width of the street, the supports for said bridge to be entirely within the boundary lines of the property belonging to the said Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company.

Section 3. Be it further ordained that the plans for said bridge are to be approved by the Committee on Streets and the City Engineer before construction is begun.

Section 4 Be it further ordained that said bridge shall be maintained at all times in a good and safe condition by the said Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, its successors or assigns.

Section 5. The right is reserved to repeal, alter or amend this ordinance.

Section 6. This ordinance shall be in force from its passage.

Negroes Claim to be Jews.

Plainfield, N. J., city is swamped by hundreds of negro delegates to the meeting of the Church of God and Saints of Christ. When it was announced some time ago that this denomination was to assemble at Plainfield it was supposed it would consist of a hundred or so delegates in addition to the little band there who have been known as "The Feet Washers." Instead they are pouring in by hundreds. On Thursday night at least 500 men and women were walking the streets unsheltered. The municipal authorities will probably have to relieve the situation. Nine hundred and five delegates had registered Thursday afternoon, and they have come by carloads since. Delegations are present from Washington, Richmond, Lynchburg, and Fredericksburg. The sect gathered for the observance of passover and the feast of unleavened bread. The ceremonies began at sundown last night, when Rev. W. H. Plummer blew the ram's horn as a signal for the beginning of the season. The ceremony will continue until a week from Sunday. The sect claims to be the Sons of Abraham, and assert that they are the real Hebrews. They say there are twenty passages in the Bible which indicate that the chosen people was the negro race. They say Solomon was a Jew and black, and that those ordinarily known as Jews still bear the marks of the negro race, both in their skin and in the formation of their features. They say that the Jew of today is simply a deteriorated negro.

Clean up and get ready for spring. Take a few Early Risers. These famous little pills cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels and give the blood a chance to purify itself They relieve headache, sallow complexion, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Society Gambling.

District Attorney Robert E. Stewart, of Pittsburg, threatens to use the entire county detective force to break up poker playing and bridge whist by persons in society. He has discovered an old law, which was passed by the legislature of 1860, which would send to the penitentiary half of the smart set of the city if it were enforced. The law provides that, "if any person shall procure, permit, suffer and allow persons to collect and assemble in his house, room, outhouse, booth, tent, arbor or other place, under his entrol for the purpose of playing at and staking or betting upon any game of cards or hazard money or other valuable thing, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and one conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $500 and undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year." "The wholesale practice of gambling among society people has become alarming," declares the district attorney. "It must be stopped, and I intend to stop it, if I have to proceed against all the fashionable persons of the city."

Danger From The Plague.

There's grave danger from the plague of Coughs and Colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Mrs. Geo Walls, of Forest City, Me., writes: "It's a Godsend to people living in climates where coughs and colds prevail. I find it quickly ends them. It prevents Pneumonia, cures LaGrippe, gives wonderful relief in Asthma and Hay Fever, and makes weak lungs strong enough to ward off Consumption, Coughs and Colds 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Trial bottle free.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for la grippe," says Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands whom it has cured? It is applied directly to the affected air-passages and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York, on receipt of 50 cents.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

FINANCIAL

Yes, That Same Old Story.

"If I had only begun to SAVE when young!" It's never too late to start. Begin to prepare for the rainy day now and SAVE a little of your income. We do not advise SAVING merely for the money's sake, merely for gratification or enrichment. To have money and have nothing else is to be POOR INDEED. But every man with a child or any human being dependent upon him owes it to his sense of decency to SAVE his money, for only money SAVED and accumulated can mean permanent safety for the weak. Money means independence and the man whose dollar you must work for from day to day is the man that's INDEPENDENT. We want you to accumulate and SAVE that which will make you independent of other men. Make up your mind to do this by opening an account in our SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, where it will earn 3 PER CENT. interest, compounded. Call and talk this matter over with us—CALL TODAY.
